Menu

Click the “Menu” button to switch to the “Download Update File” screen.

If you are logged in with a different license, after clicking the “Menu” button use the “Logout” button at the top of the screen to log out, and log back in again with a different license.

When logged in, a header will be displayed at the top of each screen.

The screenshot shows the ENC Support interface. At the top, there is a header with the title "ENC Support : Download Update File" and a "Logout" button. Below the header is a navigation menu with six items: "Download Update File", "Update Information", "List of Licensed Cells", "License Renewal", "My Page", and "Password Change". The "Download Update File" item is highlighted. Below the navigation menu, there is a section titled "Update Data for Specified Period" with a question mark icon. This section contains instructions and a "Creating Update File" button. The instructions include: "Please select either 'Update Data for Specified Period' or 'Download Whole Data In CD Image' to download.", "If you use under a different license ID, please 'Logout' then logging in with another license ID.", and "Please refer to ? on how to download and how to use the download file." The "Creating Update File" button is located at the bottom right of the section.

- ① Click this to download the entire ENC Support manual.
- ② Click this to stop using “ENC Support”.
- ③ Click this to download updates.
- ④ Click this to view update information.
- ⑤ Click this to view information regarding licensed cells.
- ⑥ Click this to download application forms.
- ⑦ Click this to view or change user information.
- ⑧ Click this to change the password.

When the set cells is issued to cell under contract, notification pop-up will open.

If you check the "Don't show next time." checkbox and click "Close", the popup will not appear when you log in until the set cells is issued again.

3. Downloading Update Files

Updates for licensed cells and updates for all cells can be downloaded.

There are two ways to download data: “Update Data for Specified Period” and “Download Whole Data in CD Image”.

“Update Data for Specified Period” is used to download only updates for licensed cells for a specified period.

These download files are small, so this method is recommended for users that regularly use updates.

“Download Whole Data in CD Image” is used to download 12 months of updates for all cells.

These download files are large, so this method is recommended for users that have not applied updates for some time.

3.1. Downloading licensed cell updates

Licensed cells for a specified period can be downloaded.

Create the file to be downloaded by following the procedure below.

1. Select the start day of the date range of updates to be downloaded.
2. Create the update file
3. Download the created update file

1. Select the start day of the date range of updates to be downloaded.

The start date can be specified by selecting it from the calendar or from the pull-down menu. Any date from the 1st of this month of 12 months previous to today can be selected.

- To select a date using the calendar:

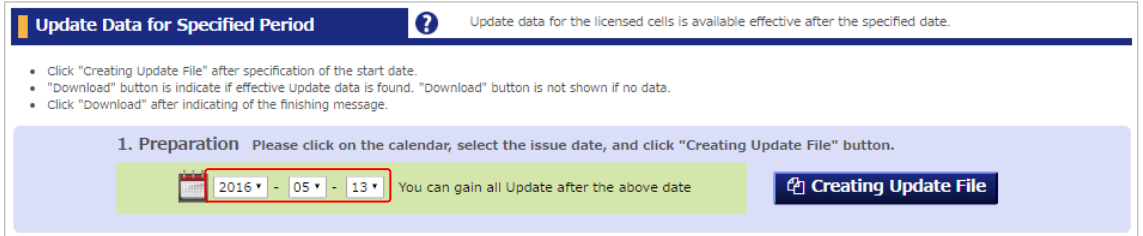

1. Click the calendar icon.

2. Click the desired date on the calendar that is displayed.

- ① Click this to move to the previous month.
- ② Click this to move to the next month.
- ③ Green dates on calendar are the issue dates of updates.

3. The calendar will disappear and the selected date will be displayed in the pull-down menus.

- To select a date using the pull-down menus:

Select the date from the pull-down menus, which are arranged in the following order: Year, Month, Day.

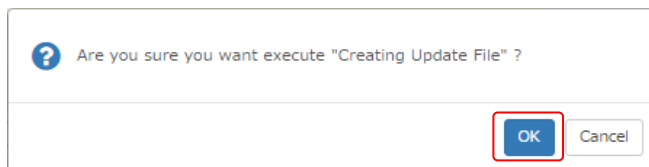

2. Create the update file

Create an update file for the licensed cells from the selected date to the current date.

1. Click the "Creating Update File" button.

2. A confirmation message will be displayed. Click the "OK".

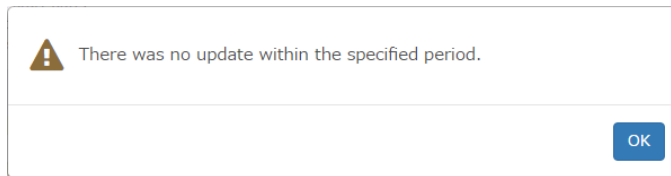

- The update file creation status can be confirmed on the pop-up which is shown while the file is being created.

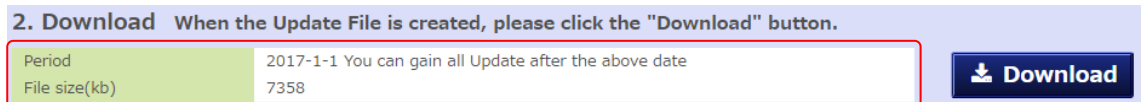

No other operations can be performed while the file is being created.

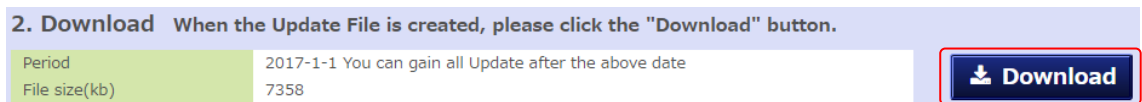

- If there were no updates during the specified period the following message will be displayed. When this occurs, no update file will be created.

- When the update file is created, file information will be displayed.

3. Download the created update file

Click the “Download” button and save the file.

- It will not be possible to click the “Download” button if no update file has been created, the creation process is still in progress, or there were no updates during the specified period.

Download file

- The file will be an archive file using zip formatted compression.

- The file will contain update information issued for licensed cells during the specified period.

How to use the downloaded file

- Have a writable CD ready.
 - Decompress the downloaded file.
 - Write the entire contents of the decompressed file to a CD with the volume name "V01X01".
- ※ The CD-writing software will vary depending on what OS is used.
 - ※ Some ECDIS and ENC display software may be able to import update files from USB memory sticks. If this is the case, decompress the downloaded file and save the entire contents of the decompressed file to a USB memory stick.
 - ※ For details, see the instruction manuals of the respective ECDIS or ENC display software.

※ The update download function will not be usable in the following cases.

① The logged in license has expired

If the license is expired, the following will be displayed.

If you wish to continue using the cells, please renew your license.

The screenshot shows the 'ENC Support : Download Update File' page. The navigation bar includes 'Download Update File', 'Update Information', 'List of Licensed Cells', 'License Renewal', 'My Page', and 'Password Change'. A red error message states: 'The license has expired, you can not download Electronic Notice to Mariners. Please renewal the license.' Below this, two sections are visible: 'Update Data for Specified Period' with a message 'Update data for the licensed cells is available effective after the specified date.' and 'Download Whole Data In CD Image' with a message 'You can download Base or Update in CD image'. The main content area displays the error message: 'The license has expired, you can not download Electronic Notice to Mariners.' and 'The license has expired, you can not download CDs.' The footer contains 'Copyright © Japan Hydrographic Association'.

② The update download function has been stopped

If the update download function is not usable, the following will be displayed.

Please wait and try again later.

The screenshot shows the 'ENC Support : Download Update File' page. The navigation bar is identical to the previous screenshot. The error message is: 'Downloading service is under maintenance now, please download later.' This message is displayed in two sections: 'Update Data for Specified Period' and 'Download Whole Data In CD Image'. The main content area also displays the message: 'Downloading service is under maintenance now, please download later.' The footer contains 'Copyright © Japan Hydrographic Association'.

8. Password Change

The password used to log in can be changed.

Fill in all fields and click the “Change” button.

- ① Enter the current password.
 - The default password is the email address used when registering the license.
 - ② Enter the desired new password.
 - The password must consist of single-byte characters, including symbols, and must be between 8 and 60 characters long.
 - Only symbols which can be used in email addresses can be used.
 - ③ Enter the new password again to confirm.
- ① If you have forgotten your password, please contact the Japan Hydrographic Association or a distributor for which you have a license agreement.

9. Logging Out

You can log out of the ENC Support system.

① Click the “Logout” button at the top of the screen.

You will be logged out of the ENC Support system and returned to the “Login” screen.
